"Old Scotch Grave Burial Ground"

Located seven miles west of Carthage on a high plateau, several hundred yards above the old stage road, somewhat nearer Mt Carmel Church than Bethelham Church, this ancient cemetery, now virtually abandoned, contained but few of the markers noted in the following pages in 1949.

This list of legible headstones and markers was compiled in 1905. At that time there was about as many more pine markers without inscriptions. It will be noted that but four inscriptions antedated 1800; the earliest one 1786, one in 1794, two in 1798. The first in the next century bears the date of 1808, and it is interesting to find that where ages or birth dates remain nineteen of the deceased were between seventy and ninety-five years of age.

Some clue to the origin of this cemetery might be found in the original grant for the property. It may have been to a McIntosh, as that family were once located near the graveyard.
